RETURNS WEDDING RING LOST 50 YEARS AGO

Roy Glor, while excavating a 5-foot ditch for a new sewer at his home in Varysburg, unearthed a wide, encrusted band wedding ring. Mrs. Glor set the ring away to show as a curiosity to future callers. About a week after the discovery, John Calkins of Perry, who was born and had lived in the Glor home till quite a young man, called there to see the new improvements being made and Mrs. Glor told him of the ring. As Mr. Calkins' eyesight is not very good, he identified the ring as one his mother had lost when he was about 12 years old, at the time when a large ill was being made at the rear of the residence. He was positive that this was his mother's ring because he could feel a place where he himself had soldered it for her.

Mrs. Glor was pleased to give the ring to Mr. Calkins to remember his mother and for proof, should he care to relate the return at a later date.

[QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING]

"What are the duties of Bank directors?"

STATED in simple terms, it is the duty of bank directors to direct. They are elected by the owners of the bank—the stockholders who delegate to the board of directors the responsibility of management. The directors, in turn, hire the officers who, with other employees, carry on the daily work of running the bank.

But the final and inescapable responsibility for the bank rests upon its board of directors. It is their job to exercise control and supervision of its affairs. It is their duty to know about the important phases of the bank's business.

Our directors actively direct the affairs of this bank. They meet regularly to pass on important matters, to make decisions and establish policies which guide our officers in the daily management of the bank.
